

Eniro's environmental programs

ENIRO IS ISO 14001-CERTIFIED

Eniro is certified according to the ISO 14001 international environmental standard. This ensures that we work determinedly, systematically and with consistent improvements. Intertek Semko Certification AB was responsible for the initial certification and – by means of annual audits – ensures we comply with the requisite ISO standards.

The certificate to the right shows the included companies.

GROUP ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

Eniro is an information and search company that makes it easy to find individuals, companies, products and services through our channels such as Internet, directories, directory inquiries, and by mobile media.

Our focus areas in the environmental sphere are: • Directory production • Energy • Transport • Waste

Eniro aims to

- comply with legislation and provisions governing the environmental area
- work for consistent environmental improvements in its focus areas by means of target-oriented programs
- select environmentally certified products and suppliers who work actively with environmental issues to the degree that this is financially feasible in purchasing
- promote lower energy consumption and use renewable energy sources whenever possible
- permit the environment to be a natural element of everyday operations in the development of products, services and work processes
- ensure that all communications involving environmental issues are based on factual data and openness
- create environmental awareness and environmental responsibility among employees through environmental efforts and information.

GROUP ENVIRONMENTAL GOALS

- Reduce the environmental impact of the production and distribution of directories.
- Efficiency-enhance and reduce energy consumption and use renewable energy whenever possible.
- Minimize emissions from the travel and transport of employees.
- Reduce the environmental impact of waste from office activities.

Eniro's environmental activities

PRODUCTION AND DISTRIBUTION OF DIRECTORIES

For many years, Eniro has used various programs in the production and distribution of directories, which have resulted in positive environmental effects. These efforts involve paper grades, paper suppliers, printing and distribution partners, and processes.

The paper in Eniro's directories is FSC marked and produced using approximately 40 percent recycled paper. Directories are recyclable.

OFFICES

At its offices, Eniro works in a target-oriented manner with environmental programs in the following areas:

- Waste (sorting-at-source)
- Energy (Green electricity and reduced consumption)
- Purchasing (Eniro's purchasing processes take the environment into account through the selection of eco-certified suppliers and eco-labeled goods and services whenever economically feasible).
- Employees awareness and training.
- Transport (For Eniro, the key factor is to reduce carbon-dioxide emissions in all areas. In the case of business travel, we seek eco-friendly alternatives and encourage rail travel and videoconferencing as alternatives to air travel.)
- By working with our company car policy and moving from gasoline to eco-friendly fuels, Eniro has cut its carbon-dioxide emissions by 109 tons during the past year.)